ABOUT THE SLS-MUN

The Concept of MUNs and its committees:-

What is an MUN?

Model United Nations (MUN) is an academic simulation that imitates the procedures of the United Nations, an international organisation. It provides students with an opportunity to learn about international relations, diplomacy, and the workings of the UN. However SLS MUN 2024 shall be a confluence of UN and non UN committee.

The event is organised as a conference where students, often representing different countries, take on the roles of delegates to discuss and debate global issues, propose solutions, and draft resolutions for the same.

Role of a Delegate

Delegates convene in committees that mirror UN bodies such as the General Assembly, Security Council, and specialised agencies and non UN committee. These committees focus on distinct global issues such as climate change to human rights.

Each participant assumes the role of a delegate representing a particular country/entity. Delegates are expected to research and understand the policies, positions, and interests of their assigned country/entity on the agenda being discussed in their committee. They must then speak and act in accordance with their country's/entity's stance during committee sessions.

Committee Sessions

During the course of the conference, multiple committee sessions are conducted. This is where the excitement unfolds! Delegates make speeches, propose solutions, and draft resolutions to address the issues presented in the agenda. Delegates also engage in debates, ask questions, and collaborate with other countries on writing resolutions. Voting determines whether resolutions are adopted. Some committees may also include crisis situations for added excitement. The sessions are moderated by a Chair and Co-Chair of the committee. Delegates propose motions for discussion and rounds of voting take place to decide the direction of the committee session.

Rules and Procedures

MUN conferences follow specific rules of procedure, which are often based on the UN's rules and practices. These rules govern how debates are conducted, how resolutions are submitted and amended, and how voting occurs. Familiarity with these rules is essential for effective participation.

Research and Preparation

Participants are expected to conduct thorough research on their assigned country's/entity's foreign policy, the agenda to be discussed, and the specific committee's rules and procedures. This research helps delegates craft informed arguments, negotiate effectively, and contribute successfully to the goals of the committee. It is advisable for a delegate to thoroughly prepare themselves for the committee sessions to ensure a successful and engaging MUN experience.

COMMITTEES AND AGENDAS

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

International Chamber of Commerce is the oldest, largest and most representative business organization in the world. The International Chamber of Commerce was founded in 1919 to serve world business by promoting trade and investment, open markets for goods and services, and the free flow of capital. ICC has three main activities: rule setting, dispute resolution, and policy advocacy. Because its member companies and associations are themselves engaged in international business, ICC has unrivalled authority in making rules that govern the conduct of business across borders. Although these rules are voluntary, they are observed in thousands of transactions every day and have become part of international trade.

By inculcating the committee of Chamber of Commerce in an MUN, students not only get the opportunity to dive into the complexities of business world but also understand the legal complications thereof. The Chamber of Commerce committee makes the student delegates, more knowledgeable about so many different fields at the same time, like that of International Relations, Dispute Resolution, current and prospective threats that the business world faces and will face, other threats on a global scale etcetera. Presently, the committee also aims to discuss issues relating to technical advancements, its ethical aspects as well as also addressing any threats that are likely to be associated with such advancements. The Chamber of Commerce committee, being a fairly uncommon committee in MUNs, SLS MUN hence strives to be a cut above by providing newer and more creative areas of exploration.

AGENDA:

RISE OF ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE: AN ALLY OR ADVERSARY ?

FIFA

Football is not just a universal sport, but it also possesses an extraordinary unifying and integrating power. Aid projects that harness this power enable people from different backgrounds to find a common ground and a source of encouragement. Through this sport, even members of opposing sides in conflicts have the opportunity to learn and bond with each other on a neutral and unifying subject. It is basically a chance to meet other people through playing football!

Being the ultimate administrative authority, FIFA governs all facets of the game: regulating the rules of play, overseeing the transfers of players internationally, organising international competitions such as the FIFA World Cup, establishing standards for refereeing, coaching and sports medicine, and encouraging soccer's development around the world.

Football, being a popular and well-liked sport amongst teenagers can spark the interests of delegates, as they explore the undiscovered nuances of the sport. This committee aims at sharpening the knowledge of the delegates about the policies that govern the sport on a global level, the financial menaces of the sport, obstacles that players face and its bitter consequences on clubs and so on and so forth. Thus, not only do they inculcate a different outlook towards the sport, but they also expand their knowledge bases when it comes to the financial and legal angles that underlie the sport.

Students learn to approach topics with a larger and more sensitive picture in mind when it comes to internationally detrimental situations. Younger minds can bring greater solutions. This paves way for more globally aware citizens capable of leading the world into peace, sustainability and brotherhood.
