GUEST LECTURE ON "INTERNATIONAL TAX LAW"

5 March 2025

Symbiosis Law School Nagpur's Centre for Taxation Law organised a guest lecture for students of LL.M. on 5 March 2025 from 09:30 A.M onwards. The Guest lecture was based on the international tax regime titled "Overview of International Tax regime." The person who was resourced for the session was Adv. Abhishek Jajoo, a practising Advocate and Financial Advisor has field experience in various courts and Tribunals relating to tax matters. Adv. Abhishek Jajoo was greeted and felicitated by LL.M students of Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur.

The session began with a discussion of the taxation patterns across the world and the ecosystem led by Adv. Jajoo. Establishing an appealing and logical link between the various tax systems and the Indian tax regime, he clarified how the pursuit of justice and the truth are connected by tax evaluation and its outcomes, which is essential to the legal system. He explained the basic residential status that is used by tax laws to determine the tax liability. By offering firsthand recollections and examples, he made the distinction between the Indian residential system and how international perceptions get drawn into that. The evaluation also covered several other finer aspects, including double taxation avoidance agreements and transfer pricing. He discussed how the tribunal and court make sure that all viewpoints are taken into account before rendering a decision and reaffirmed the core ideas of justice while concentrating on the tax constraints, its levy and liability. He concluded by drawing the summary of the discussion he made.

Ms. Jyotsana Ekre moderated the session and proposed a vote of thanks. The program was coordinated by Dr Aarti Kalnawat, faculty in charge of the Centre for Taxation Laws. All the participants appreciated the Guest lecture.
