Introduction:

On the 26th and 27th of September 2024, Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur hosted an insightful guest lecture on the topic of "Formation of Capital" for students of Company Law. The lecture was conducted by esteemed guest speaker Mr. Rahul Thakwani, who brought a wealth of knowledge and practical experience to the classroom.

Session Overview:

The lecture was structured into two engaging sessions, each lasting two hours. Mr. Thakwani commenced the sessions with an overview of the significance of capital in company formation, emphasizing its role as a foundational element for business operations. He discussed various types of capital, including authorized, issued, subscribed, and paid-up capital, and how these impact the overall structure and governance of a company along with aspects of Equity, Debt & Prospectus.

Key Highlights:

- 1. Understanding Capital Types:
 - Differentiation between equity and debt capital.
 - The importance of determining the appropriate capital structure for a business.
- 2. Legal Framework:
 - Exploration of relevant sections of the Companies Act, including provisions related to share capital and issuance.
 - Discussion on the regulatory framework governing capital formation.
- 3. Practical Insights:
 - Real-world examples of successful capital formation strategies.
 - Case studies on companies that faced challenges in their capital structure.

4. Interactive Q&A:

- Engaging session where students posed questions regarding practical applications and legal implications.
- Mr. Thakwani encouraged students to share their thoughts on contemporary issues in capital formation.

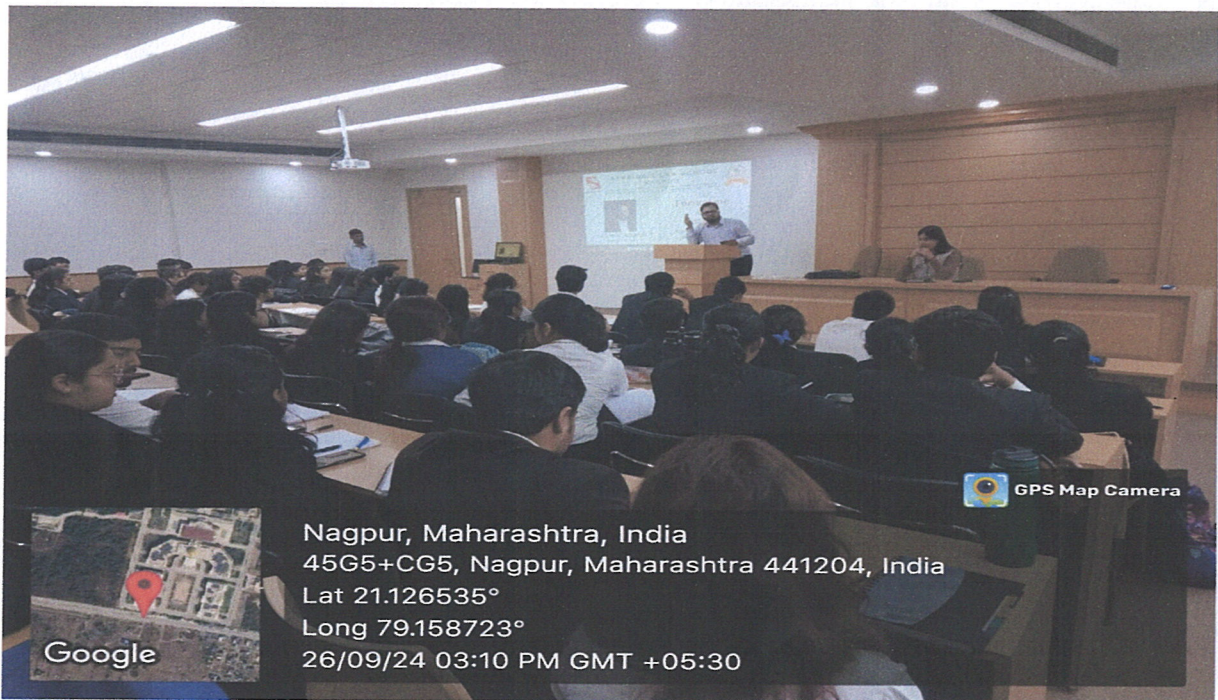

Feedback and Impact:

The sessions were well-received by students, who appreciated Mr. Thakwani's clear explanations and practical examples. Many expressed that the lecture enhanced their understanding of complex concepts in company law and provided valuable insights into the intricacies of capital formation.

Overall, the guest lecture served as an excellent platform for students to connect theoretical knowledge with real-world applications, fostering a deeper interest in corporate law.

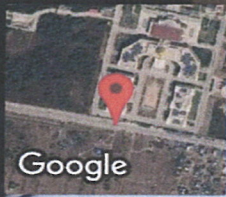

Acknowledgments:

We would like to thank the faculty members for organizing this event and the students for their active participation, making the lecture a resounding success.
